Advancing liberty through storytelling and the arts

Dear friend of liberty,

As we ring in the New Year, we at the Winged Victory Foundation are celebrating the start of our third year of operation. We want to share with you our activities and accomplishments as we strive to bring the ideas of free society to a wide audience through art and entertainment.

The newsletter below explains our exciting endeavors to help people understand and value their personal liberty, recognize current-day threats to it, and vigorously protect it.

I hope you'll consider making a tax-deductible gift to support us as we expand the reach of our programs and launch new ones.

With best wishes for the holidays and New Year,

Gen LaGreca

ENGAGING THE COMMUNITY

Honoring Constitution Day

The foundation, in partnership with the Remnant Trust, launched our Meet James Madison event. Families packed the room to learn about individual rights, limited government, and other key features of the Constitution from Mr. Madison, himself.

Children soft-touched historic documents, received a free copy of the Constitution, and won prizes for their knowledge of the Bill of Rights. We teach kids to understand and love individual freedom, which isn't taught in many schools today.

Sign the Declaration of Independence

Our Be a Signer events give parents a chance to explain the Declaration to their children and take the pledge our Founders took to live in freedom.

Be a Champion for Liberty

Your donation helps us to:

- Produce movies to spread the ideas of liberty and raise awareness of threats to it.
- Develop reading and theatre programs to entertain, enchant, and enlighten youth and adults alike.
- Hold fun-filled events to spotlight the founding principles of a nation that vanquished tyranny and unleashed individual liberty.
